

April 28, 2014

Community Foundation Honors Bruce and Muriel Hach

The Community Foundation hosted a reception on Thursday, April 24 to honor Bruce and Muriel Hach and celebrate the renaming of its Board Room to the “Hach Community Room”.

Bruce and Muriel established The Bruce and Muriel Hach Family Fund in 2005 and have been instrumental in the success of numerous community projects including the expansion of Loveland’s historic Rialto Bridge Theater and the ArtSpace Loveland Arts Campus. Bruce served on the Community Foundation Board of Trustees for ten years, and is currently a member of the Foundation’s Investment Committee. Muriel has been an active volunteer for local nonprofits including Project Self-Sufficiency and Pathways Hospice. Their leadership has made a tremendous impact in the Northern Colorado community.

In recognition of the Hach family’s legacy of generosity to Northern Colorado, the Community Foundation’s Board Room has been renamed the “Hach Community Room”. The Foundation offers meeting space for use by local nonprofit agencies at no charge. The Hach Community Room will now be the gathering place for many nonprofit organizations and community groups.

To learn more about the Hach Community Room, visit the Community Foundation website: www.NoCoFoundation.org