Loveland Generations Celebrated Grant Recipients at Fall Event September 24

Loveland Generations, a committee-advised fund of the Community Foundation of Northern Colorado, hosted its fall event September 24 at the home of two of its members. The Dr. Seuss themed event brought together group members to celebrate the recipients of their 2015 grants: Alliance for Suicide Prevention, Colorado Youth Outdoors Charitable Trust, National Center for Craftsmanship, and Teaching Tree Early Childhood Learning Center.

Loveland Generations is a group of community-minded people choosing to pool their charitable dollars for a greater impact in addressing Loveland needs. The giving group was established in 2000 and its members enjoy giving annually and watching the impact that their grants make in the community. To date they have awarded 97 grants to Loveland nonprofits for a total of $192,485.
